

Code of Conduct

NYLA Code of Conduct

NYLA is dedicated to providing professional development and professional discourse amongst its members that are free from all forms of harassment, and inclusive of all people.

As library professionals, we expect our members to be considerate and respectful of each other. NYLA does not tolerate bullying or harassment of any member of the NYLA community. Contact the NYLA Executive Director at director@nyla.org or call NYLA at 518-432-6952, x 101 to discuss and document the incident so actions can be taken to ensure it doesn't occur again.

The New York Library Association Code of Conduct (NYLA COC) is based on the American Library Association's (ALA) Code of Conduct, and shall apply to all NYLA and NYLA unit events, professional development, publications, email exchanges, and meetings, both in-person and virtual.
